Ohio Child Welfare
Training Program

Your Partner in Learning Excellence Since 1986

The Ohio Child Welfare Training Program (OCWTP) is a comprehensive, competency-based training system serving child welfare staff, caregivers, and adoptive parents throughout Ohio. We respond to identified training needs through a range of in-person and online learning opportunities, including

- Workshops
- Learning Labs
- Guided Application & Practice (GAP) Sessions
- Coaching

Toolkits, reference materials, and transfer-of-learning tools are additional resources developed for Ohio's child welfare professionals and caregivers.

OCWTP is a collaborative effort between the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services (ODJFS), the Public Children Services Association of Ohio (PCSAO), eight Regional Training Centers (RTCs), and the Institute for Human Services (IHS). The OCWTP Statewide Steering Committee conducts strategic and operational planning, program management, and oversight for all OCWTP initiatives and activities.

The OCWTP promotes mastery of the complex knowledge and skills needed to assure protection, permanence, and respect for the diversity of Ohio's abused and neglected children.

The end result: child welfare professionals and caregivers who learn well and do well on behalf of children and families.

We bring history, experience, and established networks to the table with thirty consecutive years of service.

Did you also know that . . .

- We gather learning needs data from a variety of sources and deliver targeted training to meet those needs.
- We focus on developing specific knowledge and skill sets through a continuum of training and transfer-of-learning interventions.
- We deliver training in multiple formats to overcome barriers and accommodate needs.
- We make sure feedback from every learning event gets to the right people to ensure ongoing quality improvement.

Regional Training Centers

Eight Regional Training Centers administer training within their respective regions and represent the needs and interests of their constituent counties.
